DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-6, 10-11, 13-14, drawn to methods for determining whether a subject is at risk for developing obesity by detecting alterations in the TBC1D1 nucleic acid using nucleic acid based assays, classified in class 435, subclass 91.1.
  - II. Claims 1-2, 7-9, 12-13, drawn to drawn to methods for determining whether a subject is at risk for developing obesity by detecting alterations in the TBC1D1 protein using protein based assays, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
  - III. Claims 15-20, drawn to methods of screening for drug candidates useful in treating obesity by measuring the biological activity of TBC1D1, classified in class 514, subclass 2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I-III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation requiring different reagents and reaction parameters (nucleic acid based assays of Group I, protein-antibody binding based assays of group II, enzymatic assays of group III) and have different functions (determining risk of obesity vs screening for drugs).

Art Unit: 1634

3. Additionally, each group named above is subject to further restriction. Applicant is required to further elect a specific nucleotide/amino acid variation. This is NOT an election of species. Nucleotide sequences encoding different proteins are structurally distinct chemical compounds and are unrelated to one another. These sequences are thus deemed to normally constitute independent and distinct inventions within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121. Absent evidence to the contrary, each such nucleotide sequences are presumed to represent an independent and distinct invention, subject to restriction requirement pursuant to 35 USC 121 and 37 CFR 1.141. By statute, “[i]f two or more independent and distinct inventions are claimed in one application, the Commissioner may require the application to be restricted to one of the inventions.” 35 U.S.C. 121. Pursuant to this statute, the rules provide that “[i]f two or more independent and distinct inventions are claimed in a single application, the examiner in his action shall require the applicant... to elect that invention to which his claim shall be restricted.” 37 CFR 1.142 (a). See also 37 CFR 1.141(a). It is noted that searching more than one of the claimed patentably distinct sequences represents a serious burden for the office. With regard to this further restriction requirement, it is noted that claims 1, 2, 6, 7, 11, 12, or 15-18 will not be limited to the elected variation as these claims are considered to link the inventions directed to different variants (but claim 1, for example, is not considered to link groups I and II: nucleic acid/vs protein assays). Thus, depending on which of groups I-III is elected, should the broad, linking claim become allowable, the restriction requirement between the different variants will be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable.

In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II or III, and vice versa, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
